Allianz – Business Insurance on Steadfast Client Trading Platform

Wednesday 7th August, 2019

Allianz is excited to launch their Business Insurance on the Steadfast Client Trading Platform (SCTP).

It has been a long journey to get here and Allianz are proud of the efforts of their team and appreciative of the brokers who participated in a successful pilot program. They are pleased to advise that effective from 6th August 2019, you will have access to the Allianz SCTP Business Insurance product on the platform.

Allianz have taken a fresh approach to their SME offering on the SCTP with their proposition based on:

- Being easy to do business with
- Choice of options available
- Award winning Claims Service
- The strength of the Allianz brand

The new SCTP Business Insurance policy has some differences in cover from the Allianz Alive Business Pack and you can find out more about the product here and download the new wording here.

Allianz are required to remind you that all business conducted within the SCTP and indeed all of their electronic platforms are subject to the terms and conditions of Allianz's Broker Agreements for the distribution of our products;-

You and your approved representatives have been provided with access to the SVU system. The system includes duty of disclosure questions and default answers that need to be changed by you if not accurate in relation to your client(s). By clicking next on the duty of disclosure page you confirm that the answers listed (whether amended from the default answers by you or not) are accurate answers to the questions asked and Allianz can rely on these as accurate answers to the questions, by utilising the SVU system implies you agree with this.

Allianz is known for its strong broker relationships, underwriting expertise and claims service demonstrated by being the proud winner recently of the 2019 Australian General Insurer of the Year at the Business Australia Awards in Sydney and was the Large General Insurance Company of the Year for 2018 from the Australian Insurance Industry Awards (ANZIIF). We were awarded the 2018 & 2019 Gold Mansfield Award for Claims Excellence and the Mansfield Award for the SME Property and Casualty Award and in 2019 the Personal Lines Award.

We look forward to mutually see our business and relationship prosper through partnership on the SCTP.
